

SEMI FINALS TODAY IN NEWTON

Newton High School field is to be the scene of the State Semi-Finals, today, at 3 pm between the Wilmington High School nine and the Cathedral High School, from South Boston.

Wilmington, fresh from defeating the Woburn High School nine, was scheduled to play Cathedral High yesterday afternoon, but the game was called because of rain.

Cathedral, which defeated the Cardinal Spellman School in the quarter finals, is one of most highly rated baseball teams in the state. Katti, the pitcher, is a southpaw.

Game time is 3 pm.

If the team defeats Cathedral High it will face the winner of the Randolph-Middleboro match, being played today in East Bridgewater. The game will be for the State Championship, in B Class, High School Baseball.

The finals, it is understood, will be played in Fenway Park.

Field to Pitch

Kevin Field, Co-Capt of the team, who ordinarily plays shortstop, will probably open today's game against Cathedral in order that star pitcher will be able to face Barry Needham, Randolph's pitcher, who has pitched four No-biters this year.

TED ALL THE WAY

DEMOCRATSHOME TIRED BUT HAPPY

Wilmington's three delegates to the State Democratic Convention arrived home early Sunday morning, tired, but happy over the results of the Springfield marathon.

All three of Wilmington's delegates had been for Ted Kennedy, for US Senator, and all were happy that the President's brother won the nomination.

The delegates did not agree on their choice for the gubernatorial nomination.

Both Chairman Jimmy McLaughlin of Shawsheen Avenue and Mrs Mary Cunningham of Fairmeadow Road were supporters of Lt. Gov. Edward F. McLaughlin. Vice Chairman Jim Donahue of Cypress Street was a supporter of Endicott 'Chub' Peabody.

WINNER OF 6 STATE & REGIONAL AWARDS

THAT TOO BOB

Bob Varney, Woburn Times sports writer, is a man who knows the Wilmington baseball players nearly as well as he knows his own nippers.

He played against Wilmington, while a High School pitcher, and can testify that in three days Rizzoner George Bonds had the 100 best strike in three counties - and the most striking one, from the opposing pitcher's viewpoint.

He had also played in various Wilmington teams during his baseball career.

Bob took a few moments, last week, to testify as to the ability of our Ricky Froton, and it is with pleasure that we reprint what Bob has said:

Wilmington's Ricky Froton goes down in our sports book with the notation: "Then pitcher we have seen this year."

Froton has all the tools a pitcher needs. He is big, especially around the shoulders, and strong. He has a blazing fast one and a good curve to go with his smoke ball, a pitch that most fast pitchers don't have. It was his down breaking curve that accounted for most of his 15 strikeouts.

From what we saw yesterday Froton has learned one important thing that all pitchers have to own up to at one time or other. That is you can't overpower every batter with your fast ball so rely on your curve. If you have one and in this case Froton showed a sharp breaking curve that went down and away from the batter.

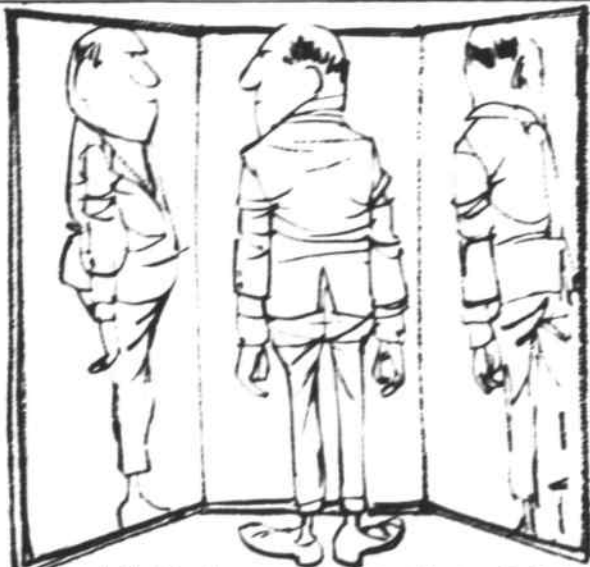

In the early innings when he found Woburn was hitting his fast ball he wisely elected to rely on his curve and it was a smart move. Over the last six innings Woburn saw nothing but curves and when he did come in with his blazer he kept it away from the plate. Six of the nine hits he gave up came in the first three innings when he was trying to fog the ball past the batters.

Yes we liked the look of this Froton kid and so didn't three major league scouts, Kansas City, Boston Red Sox, Minnesota Twins, who looked him over yesterday.

Bob is just talking about Ricky. Let us add a few words, for the rest of the team.

Ricky's teammates, without exception, are thorough gentlemen, as well as good baseball players.

They are a credit to the town, as sportsmen, and the town is proud of them.

RAVE STREET

When fishermen are in a boat,

We hope you don't have to fret,

With old DAN JONES you'll never get,

Our biggest asset is our debt.

LET US SHED SYMPATHY

We're really sorry for a fellow named Cecil Lancaster, who happens to be pulling down about $11,500 a year as Town Manager of Wilmington, and who further has been described by the chair man of the Board of Selectmen as being the Finest Town Manager Wilmington Ever Had.

Poor Cecil. He came out in a public statement, carefully released only to the papers when no one buys, in which he said, and we quote: Many sarcastic remarks have been directed at me.

The reason Mr Lancaster is paid is to be a Town Manager of Wilmington.

The reason the town has a Town Manager, and why the people of Wilmington voted for the Town Manager Plan, is to have an efficient honest capable government.

If people are sarcastic, it is because they have reason to be.

The Town Manager has water in his cellar. That was cited in a meeting of the Board of Selectmen as a reason for spending $5000 for drainage on Ballardvale Street. The meeting, interestingly enough, was not open to the public.

Perhaps the people on Westdale Avenue who have water in their cellars should get the same sympathetic treatment. The town lost some $25,000 in revenue (taxes) because the Town Manager didn't have any facts and figures at a time $750,000 in buildings was proposed at that place.

And he is equally without facts and figures on the Ballardvale Street controversy - other than he has water in his cellar, and could lose some land, if the road were to be built under Chapter 90, so that the town could save some money.

Poor fellow! We're sorry for him!

TOWN NOTES

Graduation Notes

1962 Eddie, as all the world knows, was Captain of the high school football team, and was named Mr. Football of the year. He was a real star, and it was a real honor to be a part of the team. He was a real star, and it was a real honor to be a part of the team.

But unlike many of the young men in our high school, Eddie was always a real gentleman. He was always a real gentleman, and it was a real honor to be a part of the team.

Anyway, when Eddie graduated, he got his diploma, and he was a real star. He was a real star, and it was a real honor to be a part of the team.

So let it be recorded, that of the graduating seniors, after he received his diploma, turned and walked back to his seat by a different route than that which he had come.

But not Eddie. Eddie, without his glasses tried to go back the way he had come.

The only trouble was that other seniors were standing in line, in Eddie's path.

And then there is the story about Dave Pallen.

Dave is another of those fine sportsmen who played football last year - in fact for four years. Dave is going to attend the University of Massachusetts.

The Town Crier, thinking, probably of Dave's muscle and brawn, said he was going to be a Physical Education major.

Tain't so, Dave is a man of Science, and is going to be a Science and Math major.

Boom Boom Boom

There were a lot of things connected with the visit of the Little League Corps, Sunday, for the Lascos Parade.

We heard the sound of the drums from our home on High St in No. Wilmington, probably three miles away from the Masonic Hall, and it made us a little more ready to believe some of the tales we have heard over the years, about the sounds of Bunker Hill being heard on various hill-tops in Middlesex County and even in New Hampshire.

The drums, which are authentic reproductions of the old colonial drums, were made by the Eames Drum Company of Wakefield, and some of them, we are told, are valued at $5,000.

We haven't had a chance to confer with Father Croke of St Thomas as to what the sounds may have done to his services, but we know that the Rev. Terry Thomason of the Methodist Church won't forget them.

He began his sermon in the 9 am service by remarking that it was Pentecost Sunday, and that many strange events were supposed to have happened on that day.

Then there was a Boom, Boom, Boom!

At the 11 am services he again opened his remarks on the significance of the day, and added half a phrase about some thing having happened at the 9 am service.

Again there was a Boom, Boom, Boom!

RELATIVES KILLED IN CONN.

A crash, in Old Lyme, Conn. last week killed a brother and niece of Mrs. Rejane Brindamour, of Cedarcrest Road, No Wilmington.

Jean Paul Berube, 54, of Concord, and Mrs. Barbara Berube of Bangor Maine were passengers in a car being driven by Paul Berube Jr., a lieutenant in the US Air Force. Police said the car jumped an esplanade on the Connecticut turnpike and rammed an auto driven by Susan Shapiro, of Yorktown NY, and then bounced into a tractor-trailer.

Berube was survived by his wife, Yvonne, a teacher in Concord, and a daughter, Mrs. William Grover of West Concord.

LETTER

Dear Larz,

In the May 3rd Town Crier you stated that the people working for good library service in Wilmington had been thrown a $1 lollypop and told to keep quiet. Well, people do not always do as they are told! The interested patrons and workers for excellent library service in this town will keep going toward that goal; and within that broad goal they will continue to work toward excellent library facilities in the form of a specific building erected to house the books of the Wilmington library.

One might ask why such emphasis on an excellent building when we are constantly told by a member of town officialdom that the books are the important things in a library, thus implying the building is of secondary importance? Thoughtful library patrons, professional librarians and astute laymen recognize the wisdom of Thomas Fuller's saying, 'a book that is shut is but a block' and the saying,

'the value of a book is in its use'. A fine book collection housed under conditions not encouraging toward promoting their full and frequent use loses its value. Thus we find the books and the building complement or balance each other; neither comes first or second in importance, but if one is second rate in quality the other tends to lose in value, too. So the goal is still a good progressive library building - a building which will proclaim to all that Wilmington truly is interested in advancing education to all its citizens by having fine facilities in its first public service for cultural purposes and in its second public service in education--the Wilmington Public Library.

In the same Town Crier you incorrectly stated that the Board of Selectmen, TM and one representative of the Library Board were instructed by town vote to remodel the old wooden church building into a library. The transcript of the town meeting reads that the above mentioned people were instructed to purchase the land by Article 3. Article 4, dealing with the remodeling sum and job, instructs no particular group to do the job, therefore by default and probably wise intent of the author of the article, Mr. Buzzell, the job falls upon the best qualified group to do the job, the Board of Library Trustees. After all they were appointed to administer the policy and affairs of the library--they and they alone--and so the remodeling job should be, and is, their complete responsibility and theirs is the final vote on every detail. If members from other town boards meddle into this, they will be going against the vote of the town, for, by not appointing a specific group, the assumption of the voting townspeople would be that the job would be done by the Library Trustees.

Sincerely,
Evelyn M. Norton

TO THE GRADUATES OF WILMINGTON

JUNE - 1962.

Through this month of June an event to our Youth portray, As the Colleges and High Schools present Graduation Day. Diplomas handed to these Youths passing out through the door, Some will not and again others education further explore.

Our progress demands less the unskilled to take part, It does open wide the learned with determination in heart. So to the lukewarm I wish to convey a lingering thought, This Youth passing out with their future perhaps forgot.

Each year as the Generations arrive a job yet to do, Our Youth must replace those of us out of harness now, too. Even with me a three score and plus ten years pushed aside, Look to our Youth to pick up the torch and make stride.

Please don't toss aside the gowns worn recently in attire, Prepare to continue your education let no books expire. These fields of specialties have room for them that will, March forward our Youth and graduate the next step still.

This vacation accept as a recess from the course prescribed and pass, Same time ponder and prepare make not this plateau the last. What Youth builds and erects these years facing us ahead, Will preserve our Nation indivisible and our freedom so lived instead,

This Age of Automation only the skilled will find easier to do, Several have warned of this training and some found it true. Choose which you will be - the unskilled or the skill to accept, The writing on the wall interpreting the skill will be kept.

So to our Youth this Graduation Season I do implore, Make this Education period not your last - keep adding more. Take your Summer recess and through it put on no lid, That often suggestion made and even I repeat - 'Don't give it up, kid.

William C. Stinson.

BUILDING COMMITTEE LETTER

Town Manager Cecil Lancaster came up against a cold hard fact, Tuesday night, in a letter made public in the Planning Board meeting - a letter which punches holes through many of the statements he made before the last Special Town Meeting, with reference to the controversial Ballardvale St - Salem Street reconstruction.

The letter, signed by the Chairman of the Permanent Building Committee, Erwin Hanke, stated, in effect:

No official of the town, no board or committee, approached the Building Committee, or in any way communicated to the Building Committee, regarding the plans for the reconstruction of the two streets, as planned by the Town Manager.

The Building Committee plans took care of the water from the new school area. Before the new school was started, the letter stated, there had been at times standing water in the center of the new school area. This water is now being diverted, through pipelines, and all the area is "engineered" so that no water will go onto the streets of Wilmington.

No cellar in the neighborhood is to be flooded because of the new school, the letter stated.

(There is only one complaint of water in cellars, and that by Town Manager Lancaster, in his own home. Ed)

The letter further stated that no one had spoken to the committee in any way about building the sidewalks which Lancaster proposed for a part of the area around the school.

Had such a proposal been made the Building Committee could have included them in their plans for the construction of the school, and there would be re-imbursement to the town (from the State).

It was now late in the schedule, the letter pointed out, to propose the construction of sidewalks, as part of the school project, but, in view of the proposals to reconstruct Salem and Ballardvale Streets Mr. Hanke was of the opinion that if there were prompt action the committee could include these sidewalks as a part of their project.

The letter, after being read was given to Town Engineer Alphonse Savignac, to be kept as a part of the official records.

NO FACTS OR FIGURES FOR DELL DRIVE?

16 residents of Dell Drive and Patricia Circle attended the Selectmen's meeting Monday night, to protest the cost of the Betterment construction of those roads.

The road was constructed four years ago, and only recently have the residents received a bill. Cited by several was a belief that there were no cost records of the work available.

Part of the blame was put on a former town engineer, by some of the residents, who alleged that he had a 'grudge' The street, they told the Selectmen, does not drain properly. A natural brook, once shown on the plans for the area, has been eradicated, and a ditch dug, which has been allowed to be filled in.

Pipe, donated by a former owner, for the trench, was supposed to have been put in by the town, the residents said, and added that the town had never fulfilled its obligation There were also statements of a trucking firm taking away gravel.

But the residents were mad, most of all, about the price, and claimed that they could find no records. The cost to them was at the rate of $5.19 a foot.

After the hearing, in the regular meeting, Selectman Donald Kidder moved, and it was voted, that henceforth all Road Betterment Assessments be sent through the Board of Selectmen, before being given to the Assessors.

VARIANCE GRANTED ON DEWEY ST

The Board of Appeals, Tuesday night, granted a variance for land on Dewey Street, but not in accordance with the request of the owners, Wilson E Rice, Burton F Rice and Joseph Tate.

The owners had requested a variance to allow for the construction of six homes on lots of land on both sides of Dewey Street, lots that lacked sufficient depth and area.

The Appeal Board granted a variance that would allow for the building of five homes.

The hearing was heard on April 24th.

Almost all the town has been sprayed once, and the second round will soon be in progress.

WE AREN'T MAD AT ANYBODY, JUST MAD

was one of the statements made by a group from Dell Drive, Monday night, to the Board of Selectmen, concerning the Betterment Road program.

Speaking is Walter Mercer, and beside him, facing the camera is Frank Mango. In the foreground is Fred Arseneault.

There was another Henry Harnden, who stayed home, and this, in part, is his story, as it is the story of the home he built, the House with 56 Windows.

Henry was sort of a "loner" for the first forty years or so of his life. He bought land from the Carter estate, near Silver Lake, built himself a home, and lived there, and didn't get married until after the Civil War had started. His bride was Emma Pearson, a 16 year old girl, from an Andover Street family. Henry was 53 years old at the time of his marriage, and he died within 10 years, with only one daughter, Jerusha born in 1862.

stands, one of the most imposing buildings in Wilmington.

It had been a part of the Deacon James Thompson farm, which extended from the Tewks-bury line nearly to the Wildcat Railroad, and a mill stood on Lubbers Brook, just above Glen Road, which Henry acquired when he bought the land.

After Henry died a man named Pickering bought the farm and continued to run the saw-mill.
The mill probably stopped operations about 1890, but was still standing after the turn of the century.

The boundary of the farm, as Henry had it, was what is now
Miller Road, and the Mill Pond took up all of the area behind the Silver Lake Pharmacy and up to Main Street.

About 1900 a family named Friend lived at the farm, which was still an ordinary farmhouse and barn, with a "Carriage Shed" adjacent.

It was in 1907 that Pop Neilson (an uncle of the publisher) bought the farm, for the sum of $2500, a very daring venture in finance at the time, as the country was in a depression.

"Pop" was at the time a farmer on Chestnut Street, where Dean Swan lives now, and owned all the land where Hillside Way is today. His son Eddie was the part-time janitor of the new South School, now the Wilmington Skating Club house, and it was Eddie who inspired his father to buy the farm.

Pop, born in Vestervig, Denmark, together with his wife Anna, converted the farm into a summer boarding house.

A large addition was built in back, and a large dining room out to the westward of the house.

Instead of a simply Yankee farmhouse it became a home with dozens of rooms, and one that was the center of much activity, both in summer and in winter.

A large porch was built,
which all summer long was loaded with rocking chairs, and plenty of rockers. There was a tennis court, and the Carriage House became a place for Saturday evening dances, with 20 or 30 couples in attendance.

Pop became an acknowledged character, and leader of the community. He was a volunteer policeman and fireman, a good Granger, and, with his twinkling eyes, ruddy cheeks and oversized mustache he would have been a good subject for a painter of the Dutch school of the 17th century.

In those days, before World War I, there was street car service with Boston, right up to Silver Lake. Friends of the summer guests would come out for dinner, and it wasn't at all extraordinary to serve 100 people for dinner, with Ma Neilson and her three daughters doing the cooking and serving.

Most of the vegetables came right from the farm, but Ma wasn't above opening a can or two of peas, to mix with the home grown variety, when there were extra guests.

Pop made out well, on his farm. A Catholic church mission was opened in Thompson's Grove, where St. Dorothy's is today, and after Sunday Mass Pop's barn would be filled with people buying vegetables for their Sunday dinner.

And, although everyone marveled at the way Pop kept on going, with his ten acres of vegetables, 20 cows, and several horses, no one ever bothered to count the windows.

For those windows, in themselves, have a story to tell.

Imagine, if you will, a lady and her three daughters keeping house for forty or fifty guests, and serving one hundred at Sunday dinner, - and also washing 56 windows, in addition to the other tasks.

It must have been quite a rigorous life for the distaff side of the family, in those days before electric dish-washing machines and such aids.

The summer boarding house business died out at the beginning of the depression, or a few years earlier, with the daughters married and gone elsewhere. One of them, living in California, sent a postcard addressed to "Pop, Wilmington Mass". It was delivered.

Pop died about 1937, and the old farm was sold.

It is now the property of Mrs John Joyce, and her son
Cornelius, also known as Neal.

Mrs Joyce keeps it very nicely, and every Christmas she puts one candle in each window - 56 candles.

It is still one of the nicer sights in the Town of Wilmington, especially on Christmas Eve.

COWIE LAND PLAN SIGNED

The Wilmington Planning Board Tuesday night signed a plan of land owned by the town of Wilmington, on Ballardvale St.

The plan stated the land was to be sold to Bob Cowie.

An argument was averted, in the signing of the plan, when one member pointed out that it was of the 'No Approval Necessary' type because it is on an accepted street.

Some members wanted to discuss the boundaries, which, in the town vote in special Town Meeting, was mis-worded.

FITZMAURICE RESIGNS
FROM PLANNING BOARD

Raymond F. Fitzmaurice, former chairman and a member of the Wilmington Planning Board submitted his resignation to the board, Tuesday evening. His term of office had been completed, he said, and he told the other members that he would be unable to continue because of the pressure of his private business.

Fitzmaurice's term as chairman of the Planning Board was marked by the appointment of a subcommittee for a study of the town's by-laws and general updating of zoning regulations. It was also marked by the approval of the Tocci subdivision, off Woburn Street, one of the largest real estate developments in Wilmington.

He was also a member of the Building By-Law Committee, a committee which met weekly for three years in writing a new building code for Wilmington. The work, a modern up-to-date code, is completed, and is awaiting acceptance by the town.

A native of New York State, Fitzmaurice was a Naval Flight er Pilot in World War II, after which he attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and since 1954 he has been licensed to practice engineering in both New York State and Massachusetts.

He was Chief Engineer for a Boston architectural engineering firm, and among the projects he handled were the new Boston Globe building and the New England Deaconess Hospital Medical Office Building.

In 1961, while a resident of Wilmington, Fitzmaurice formed his own firm, the Fitzmaurice Construction Company, specializing in commercial and industrial engineering and construction. Locally he has designed the Guild Plastics plant, and the latest additions to the Charles River Laboratories.

Taxes Going Up

Fitzmaurice's statement, at the time of his resignation, was accompanied with a prediction that Wilmington's tax-rate was 'going up'.

'If we don't have more available industrial land through rezoning, and our new school construction program continues, taxes could increase 50% in a few years' Fitzmaurice told the Planning Board.

Should Medical Care for The Aged
Be VOLUNTARY or COMPULSORY?

It's YOUR Decision

*The Issue: Compulsion versus Freedom of ChoiceHere's what we favor:

As Americans, we believe that our aged citizens who need medical care should get it, whether or not they afford to pay for it.

We favor a program of medical aid for the aged sensibly designed to help those who need help.

Such a program is available now and should be given a fair trial. It is a voluntary program. It consists of voluntary health insurance for those able to purchase it and the Kerr-Mills Law for helping those who need help in paying for medical care.

Voluntary health insurance policies and Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans now are available to all aged everywhere. More than 9,000,000, or 53%, of the aged already have health insurance. This is three times as many aged as had health insurance 10 years ago.

The Kerr-Mills Law, passed by Congress in 1960, enables individual states to guarantee to every aged American who needs help the health care he requires. In addition to the more than 2,500,000 Americans covered by Old Age Assistance, the law is designed to benefit all other older persons who could not meet the cost of a serious or prolonged illness.
It helps those who need help.

The Kerr-Mills Law preserves the quality of medical care — maintaining the patient's freedom of choice and the doctor's freedom to treat his patients in an individual way.

It allows each state to provide as wide a variety of health services as it chooses, and does not limit the length of time an eligible person may receive them.

It avoids waste of tax dollars by helping only those who need help.

Here's what we reject:

As Americans, we are deeply concerned about the dangers of socialized medicine. And we are not crying "wolf" when we apply that term to the King-Anderson Bill now before Congress.

The bill, if enacted, would provide limited Federal health care benefits for those over 65 eligible for social security. It would require the patient to pay $10 a day for the first nine days of hospitalization, with a minimum of $20, and $20 for each complete diagnostic study.

It would be compulsory . . . covering everyone eligible for social security (regardless of need), and compelling every wage-earner and employer to pay the bill through increased taxes.

It would lower the quality of medical care . . . with Government controlling standards of practice and limiting free choice of hospital and physician. Personal health problems would become a matter of Government record.

It would be staggeringly expensive . . . with a double increase on payroll taxes—more payroll deductions through a greater percentage of tax and a higher base on which to deduct. Passage of the bill, plus social security tax increases already scheduled would mean that by next year a wage-earner making $5,200 a year would pay 40% more tax than he paid in 1961.

It is inequitable . . . compelling young wage-earners to pay higher payroll taxes to provide medical care for millions of the well-to-do and self-reliant, yet not providing any care for the 2.5 million not covered by social security—the group most in need.

It is unnecessary . . . No one has yet produced evidence that such radical legislation is needed.

It would mean socialized health care . . . immediately for all those over 65 eligible for social security and eventually for every man, woman, and child in America.

IT'S YOUR DECISION — If you agree with us that a Federal Government-controlled health care scheme for any segment of our population would be bad for the nation, we urge you to write your Senators and Congressman. Urge them to reject the King-Anderson Bill. Ask your representatives in Washington to preserve our present program of voluntary health insurance and the Kerr-Mills Law.

SEMI-FINALS (FR FR PG)

Wilmington 6 Woburn 4
The major upset of the season in High School Baseball this season, in Massachusetts, was the defeat of Woburn, 6 to 4, by Wilmington, in the quarterfinals in Stoneham, last Thursday.

Woburn, defending Champion of Class B, had defeated Wilmington a year ago, in Reading, in the same game, and was expected to do so again.

It was only a week ago that the Boston Sunday Herald had a long story about why Woburn should be in Class A. The Wo-burn team has as its pitcher Eddie Foley, one of the outstanding players in the High School level today, and has five batters who have been hitting over .300.

There were several errors during the game, errors which in the end proved more costly to Woburn. The biggest was in the sixth inning, when Woburn missed two chances for a double play, with the bases loaded.

Wilmington's third base coach in the first inning failed to send in Mike Farrel for a run, which could have, but didn't lose the game.

Ricky Proton began the game with a hot ball, across the outside corner of the plate, which the Woburn batters soon caught on to.

In the first three innings they made several hits, mostly to right field or foul.

Eddie Foley, pitching for Wo-burn, kept a hot ball going the entire game, in the duel, but Proton had a change of pace in the fourth, when he began to throw inside curves that dropped sharply as they crossed the plate, and only one more Woburn player, Foley, was able to make a hit, for one base.

Proton finished those last innings a confident man, fanning five Woburn players one after another, including such heavy hitters as McDonough and Crowley.

Woburn earned three of its four runs, but Wilmington only earned two of its six.

The game opened with Woburn

EX LITTLE LEAGUERS

Wilmington's star pitcher and catcher, Ricky Froton (left) and Mike Farrel, who started their baseball careers in the Wilmington Little League, Froton with the Tigers and Farrel with the Indians. The two men are one of the best baseball batteries in Massachusetts today.

bases.

Mike Anderson tried a squeeze play which failed when Foley fielded for a toss to first for a force out.

Pete Emery grounded to second base, who threw home to force out Froton, but Wilmington was saved from a double play when Woburn failed to cover first.

Sugarman was then hit by a pitched ball, and the tying run was forced in. Jimmy Gillis then dropped a single on left field which scored Fuller and Emery, and advanced Sugarman to third base.

The inning ended when Robbins struck out, but with Wilmington in the lead Ricky Froton settled down for some confident pitching, fanning five batters in a blaze of glory.

Emery led in runs, with 2, while Sugarman, Gillis, Fuller and Anderson scored one each. Woburn's runs were by Bowers, Foley (2) and Gill.

Froton struck out 15 and Foley 10.

JEFF WILLIAMSON OUT OF SPORTS

Jeff Williamson, all-round star athlete of Wilmington High School, is home, at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs John Waugh, Lowell Street, stricken with Mononucleosis.

He is expected to be out of sports for the next six months. The disease is one which affects the red corpuscles, and can have complications.

Jeff, last year, was within a straw of winning the Junior Speed Skating Championship of the United States.

He is the alternate to Ricky Froton, as a pitcher in the High School nine, and was a member of last year's championship football team.

This year Williamson won six games and lost one, as a pitcher. His last game, against No Andover, saw him removed in the sixth inning when he developed a pain in his side.

The High School Nine, after defeating Woburn last Thursday stopped in to see Jeff, before returning to the High School, and every man in the team, along with Coach Joe Gilligan gave him a baseball signed by all.

SCOUTS WATCHING

RICKY AND MIKE FARREL

Ricky Froton and Mike Farrel, were the center of interest for four major league scouts during the Woburn game, last Thursday.

Albie Runge, scout for the Minnesota Twins, attended the game to watch Woburn's pitcher Eddie Foley, but transferred his attention to Wilmington's battery, and stuck out the whole game.

Another scout, who came to watch Ricky was Bill Joyce of the Red Sox, and a scout was present from the Athletics and from the Braves, both with their eyes on Wilmington's pitcher.

JIMMY DURANT AT WORK

With his typewriter and adding machine within easy reach, and a microphone to use while dispatching cabs, Jimmy Durant is in business.

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER

Jimmy Durant of Lawrence St. is one of the most pleasant people in Wilmington to meet, and he is meeting plenty of people today - over the telephone.

Jimmy never leaves his home. A congenital cripple, he is unable to walk. He studied accounting, through the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission, and became a Certified Public Accountant, after which he set himself up in business, at home.

One of the firms for which he does bookkeeping is the Shamrock Taxi, owned and operated by Manny O'Brien of Hobson Ave. Manny, one day, found that he was too busy answering the phone. Business was good, but some other arrangement had to be made.

Manny acted. He arranged with the telephone company to install a headphone set at Jimmy's desk, and in addition to his bookkeeping, Jimmy is now a radio-dispatcher for the Shamrock cabs.

Jimmy likes it. "I've got a lot of new friends," he says. Manny likes it. "I've got a lot of new customers," he says.

One good turn deserves another.
